Nanopublication — Value pluralism, incommensurable ends, and Berlin's two concepts of liberty

by Arnaud Quercy

This is a Stanford Encyclopedia of Philosophy biographical-analytic entry on Isaiah Berlin's epistemology, value pluralism, and political theory of liberty — it contains no artist, emitter, codex, wave, or receiver-diffraction dynamic for the ideamorphism lens to grip; the apparent parallels (Berlin's category-spectacles preceding experience, the many divergent readings of his legacy, value incommensurability) belong to epistemology and reception-history of argument, not to artistic emission, and forcing any of P1/P9/P17/P25 onto them would only demonstrate that the lens fits any text with internal structure or contested interpretation, which is not a finding.

DECLINED — NO-PURCHASE [1]

PROPOSITIONAL GRID [2]

Read this grid. “Not evaluated” does not mean the source has nothing to say about that proposition. It means the reading did not instruct it. That is not a result, and it counts in no denominator. A silence, by contrast, is a finding: the reading touched the proposition without concluding, or noted its absence itself.

Not evaluated (37) — P1, P2, P3, P3a, P4, P5, P6, P7, P8, P9, P10, P11, P12, P13, P14, P14a, P14b, P15, P16, P16a, P17, P18, P18a, P19, P19a, P20, P21, P22, P23, P24, P25, P26, P27, P28, P29, P30, P31

Overall verdict: DECLINED:no-purchase — taxonomy of the August 2026 pass, predating the move to relational verdicts. Kept as metadata: the gap between the two forms is data, not residue. This reading’s judgement is in the grid above.
